- 1 Print off your readalong cards, cut them out and insert them into your books at the relevant page numbers.
- 2 On the evening of the 4th March, everyone will begin reading at 7.30pm.
- 3 In your first post, as you are about to begin reading, please tag as many of your friends and classmates as you like on Instagram, and perhaps show us where you've decided to settle down to read. Please also tag @worldbookdaysocial.
- 4 You can also tag the publisher @macmillankidsuk, if you would like to involve them in your discussion.
- 5 When you reach the first question, please post a photo of it, tag your friends, and start to chat. You can choose whether you prefer to do this via your feed or stories.
- 6 Repeat this every time you reach a question card.
- 7 Use #WBDReadalong #SplitReadalong throughout the reading experience. Feel free to use alongside other book-related hashtags of your choice.
- 8 Be mindful of spoiling the ending for others! Please avoid giving away important parts of the plot.
- 9 The readalong can take any form you like but we suggest an Instagram story or video. If you are doing the readalong with a friend, feel free to create a joint video. You could also create an Instagram Highlight for all of your posts.
- 10 When you have finished the book, please tag @worldbookdaysocial to let us know!
